THE CASE OF THE SCHEME OF WORK

Curriculum is the collection of topics that would be discussed or taught under themes, of a subject or course for a particular academic period.

In Nigeria, the curriculum is made for a particular subject for some series of years, for example, JS 1-3. Each educational year's curriculum is divided into 3 terms.

Each term's topic load to be discussed is called the Scheme of Work. The scheme of work is then divided into weeks.

In each week, topic(s) would be planned to be taught. In planning each topic, objectives set in the curriculum/scheme of work is meant to be achieved. However, for proper assimilation, teachers could teach the students so that they could learn practically from their environment. Scheme of work is aimed at preparing students for National based examinations. And also to develop students such that there is homogeneity all-round the country or region.
